PREFACE

The principal aim of this little book is fulfilled in Part One, which is a register of the descendants of Nathaniel Crocker, who died in Buffalo, New York, in 1855 at the age of 97 years. At this writing they have reached the number of 462. Nathaniel Crocker was a descendant of Elder William Brewster; his wife Mehitable Lewis was a descendant of John Howland. Thus these 462 persons are to be counted among the descendants of both those famous Mayflower Pilgrims. The facts here presented concerning them have been gathered mainly through correspondence, personal visits and inspection of records, and research in contemporary prints. In arranging this group for publication an endeavor has been made to give it a wider genealogical interest by the addition of matter concerning persons who have married a descendant of Nathaniel, so as better to connect with other genealogies.

It will be noticed that biographical matter other than names, together with the places and dates of births, marriages, and deaths, has been excluded. The footnotes, however, point to works where much additional material may be found by those interested.

In Part Two will be found the ancestry of Nathaniel Crocker and Mehitable Lewis. This Part contains little that is new to the genealogist; it merely provides the descendants of Nathaniel and Mehitable with a concise and fairly complete statement of these ancestors as far back at least as the "comeoverers."

In the course of his correspondence, the editor has been impressed with the desirability that in each family or group of families, some one member at least should be regarded as family historian to preserve what might otherwise be lost. A few moments spent now and then as events happen would be trifling as compared with the labor of getting together the same data at a later time and the results would be perfect instead of incomplete or even fragmentary. With this in mind, the editor invites all those concerned to send him the dates and places of all future births, marriages, and deaths in this group of families that may come to their notice. He would also, as a matter of course, solicit correction of errors, and additions that might be made to this record as it stands.

It is unnecessary perhaps to remark upon the impossibility of securing absolute accuracy with regard to dates. When a gravestone inscription gives one date of death, a family bible another, a published vital record another, the editor can only weigh possibilities.

PART I

NATHANIEL CROCKER AND HIS DESCENDANTS

Of all the affections of man, those which connect him with ancestry are among the most natural and generous. They enlarge the sphere of his interests, multiply his motives to virtue, and give intensity to his sense of duty to generations to come, by the perception of obligation to those which are past. — Josiah Quincy.

NATHANIEL CROCKER AND HIS DESCENDANTS

1 NATHANIEL CROCKER[1], son of Col. Job Crocker[2] and Mercy Freeman[3], was born in Eastham, Massachusetts, 30 June 1758; served in the Revolution; justice of the peace; lived also in Oxford and Paxton, Massachusetts, and Albany and Buffalo, New York; represented Paxton in the Massachusetts legislature; died in Buffalo, New York, 15 August 1855; married 10 April 1783, Mehitable Lewis[4] of Barnstable. Children:

Job, born in Oxford, Massachusetts, 28 August 1784; died in New York 6 July 1814.

George Lewis, born in Oxford 27 July 1786; died in Paxton, Massachusetts, 6 July 1793.

2 Nathaniel, born in Oxford in 1788.

3 Solomon, born in Oxford in 1790.

Robert, born in Paxton, Massachusetts, 19 July 1792; died there 2 November 1800.

4 Polly Lewis, born in Paxton in 1794.

5 George Lewis, born in Paxton in 1797.

PART II

THE ANCESTORS OF NATHANIEL CROCKER AND MEHITABLE LEWIS

There is a moral and philosophical respect for our ancestors which elevates the character and improves the heart. Next to the sense of religious duty and moral feeling, I hardly know what should bear with stronger obligation on a liberal and enlightened mind, than a consciousness of alliance with excellence which is departed; and a consciousness, too, that in its acts and conduct, and even in its sentiments and thoughts, it may be actively operating on the happiness of those who come after it.—Daniel Webster.

THE ANCESTORS OF NATHANIEL CROCKER AND MEHITABLE LEWIS.

In this part are set forth the ancestors of Nathaniel Crocker and his wife Mehitable Lewis. The arrangement is by three sections:

I. The ancestors of Col. Job Crocker, Nathaniel's father.
II. The ancestors of Mercy Freeman, Nathaniel's mother.
III. The ancestors of Mehitable Lewis, Nathaniel's wife.

The families of ancestors are not included and biographical matter is minimized, but the footnote references point to authorities where an abundance of such information can be found. In each section the order that has been adopted is the one that seems most likely to satisfy the preferences of descendants, namely, in the first section the Crocker male line (A, B, C and D) followed by other ancestors of Col. Job Crocker; in the second section the Brewster line (I to N); and in the third section the Howland line (O to U) followed by other ancestors of Mehitable Lewis.

INDEX

The dry branches of genealogical trees bear many pleasant and curious fruits for those who know how to search after them . . . The interest which has grown up throughout the country during the past fifteen or twenty years in this department of literature is a proof of great advancement in elegant culture. — Henry Ward Beecher in 1862.
